CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS

GIRLS JUST WANNA HAVE PHONES!

For the 40th Festival du nouveau cinéma (FNC), Vidéo Femmes invites women filmmakers around the globe to create short films from smart phones based on the theme: "40". A jury of industry professionals will select works that will be screened at FNC, in October!

The cell as a means of exploration in video

In 2011, communications technologies are completely embedded in everyone's life, artists included. Through this project, Vidéo Femmes encourages exploration of the medium with a touch of immediacy. This creation tool transforms the video images, mixing the direct with the orchestration.

Submitted films must meet the following criteria:

- Be directed by a woman;
- Follow the theme "40";
- Being shot with a cell phone;
- Be a maximum of 2 minutes;
- If the film is in a language other than English or French, it must be subtitled in English or French by the artist.

For submissions, complete the attached form and send it to info@videofemmes.org before September 20, 2011.*

For any questions, please contact info@videofemmes.org or 1-418-529-9188.

*Instructions for sending the film will be sent as we receive the complete form.

About Vidéo Femmes

Founded in 1973, Vidéo Femmes is an artist-run center for the production of independent videos created by women, as well as a distribution center. Its mission: to support and stimulate the creation of original, independent video works, primarily documentaries, and ensure wide exposure for these works and their creators.

About the Festival du nouveau cinéma

The Festival du nouveau cinéma is dedicated to the dissemination and development of new trends in the field of cinema and new media. It offers a springboard for original and largely unseen works, placing emphasis on promoting cinema d'auteur and digital production. For 40 years, the Festival has annually welcomed Quebec, Canadian and international artists in a convivial atmosphere that prizes public and professional exchange.
